Certified Horsemanship Association Offers Educational Webinars for Equine Professionals and Enthusiasts

(March 2017) – The Certified Horsemanship Association (CHA) offers a variety of resources for horse professionals and enthusiasts alike to learn more about horsemanship. One of CHA’s most popular educational resource is the professional webinars, which are offered live and also in recorded format. In addition to gaining more horsemanship knowledge, these webinars can also serve as continuing education credit hours for CHA recertification, and could possibly be used for other educational programs that require continuing education credits.* In addition, business owners can use CHA webinars as educational training for staff.
