

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
For More Information and Photos
Contact: CHA Office
720-857-9550 or office@CHAinstructors.com

Certified Horsemanship Association to Host Webinar with CHA Clinician Julie Goodnight on “Exercises, Patterns, and Drills for All Levels of Riders”

(December 2018) – The Certified Horsemanship Association’s (CHA) featured webinar presenter for December 2018 will be CHA Clinician Julie Goodnight. Goodnight will be speaking live on “Exercises, Patterns, and Drills for All Levels of Riders” on Thursday, December 13, at 1 p.m. ET. Live webinar attendees are free to ask questions of Goodnight at the end of the presentation. There will also be a recording available after the webinar so that viewers can review this beneficial information again and again. You can also purchase the recording if you can’t attend the live event.

No matter what level you ride, English or Western, or if you prefer arena or trail riding, Goodnight will offer suggestions on different exercises, patterns, and drills to do with your horse or in your riding lessons. It’s the perfect webinar for any instructor, horse owner or rider who is looking for fun and productive exercises to add to their riding, both mounted and unmounted. In addition, any rider who wants to improve their riding skills with fun exercises and/or break up their riding routine will also find value in this webinar. Goodnight’s exercises and drills will teach riders important concepts on moving in balance and rhythm with the horse; how to develop clear and soft communication with the horse; and how to improve your horse’s responsiveness in transitions, speed control, stops, and turns.

Goodnight is the CHA International Spokesperson, and before that she served as CHA Program Director. She is internationally known for her weekly RFD-TV show called "Horse Master with Julie Goodnight." As a CHA Master Instructor and Clinician, she has used the knowledge she has gained through CHA and through her lifelong experiences with horses to help riders develop better leadership, communication, and horsemanship skills when working with their horses. In 2008, she was named Equine Affaire's Exceptional Equestrian Educator, and in 2013, she won CHA’s Partner in Safety Award. Goodnight's experience includes training in dressage, jumping, racing, reining, colt-starting, cutting, and wilderness riding. Goodnight owns a training facility in Colorado called Goodnight Training Stables, Inc. Her methods center around natural horsemanship, classical riding, and understanding horse behavior.

One of CHA's most popular educational resources is the CHA Webinar Series, which has educated attendees on a variety of horsemanship topics, including teaching techniques, taxes for equine programs, equine educational opportunities at colleges and universities, equine insurance, legal liabilities and risk management, equine behavior, handling ground issues, what to expect at a CHA instructor certification clinic, and much more.

To register for this webinar, visit CHA's store at http://cha.horse/store/products/Julie_Goodnight_Exercises_and_Drills_on_Horseback.html. The cost of the webinar is $20 for CHA Members and $40 for all others.

For a complete list of past CHA webinar topics, visit http://cha.horse/store/categories/CHA_Webinars/. Each topic is available for sale, and they are perfect for professionals who need continuing education credit hours for programs that require CE credits. They are also beneficial for businesses who would like to offer additional staff education and training.

For additional questions, contact the CHA office at 859-259-3399 or office@CHAinstructors.com.

CHA Instructors Change Lives Through Safe Experiences with Horses. The purpose of CHA is to promote excellence in safety and education for the benefit of the horse industry. CHA certifies instructors and trail guides, accredits equestrian facilities, publishes educational manuals, produces educational horsemanship DVDs and YouTube Safety shorts, and hosts regional and international conferences. For more information on the largest certifying body of riding instructors and barn managers in North America, Certified Horsemanship Association, please visit www.CHA.horse or call 859-259-3399. To find a certified horseback riding instructor or accredited equine facility near you, visit www.CHAinstructors.com

###