Attention Editorial Staff – Informative Riding and Training Articles Available

– The Certified Horsemanship Association is offering all AHP publications and electronic media the opportunity to print any past articles featured in its membership magazine, The Instructor, on teaching and training. Articles range from common equitation problems and solutions for different disciplines to pet peeves around the barn.

CHA Program Director and known clinician Julie Goodnight is just one of the many outstanding authors of these articles. Use of these articles is complimentary as long as CHA is contacted before the article is printed and that the publication use the reprint permission language of CHA that comes with the agreement.

Some of the articles can be found on the CHA website at www.cha-ahse.org and by going directly to this link: <http://www.cha-ahse.org/theinstructor.htm>. They can also be found by going to the home page and clicking on the magazine button.

Before reprinting an article, contact CHA for permission and to get the correct wording for the text that needs to accompany the article. Also, CHA would like a copy of the publication where the article was featured. You can contact CHA

Marketing Director, Christy Landwehr, for the full scope of articles available and to reprint an article. Some articles have available photos as well.

The purpose of CHA is to promote excellence in safety and education for the horse industry. CHA certifies instructors and trail guides, accredits equestrian facilities and provides support and educational resources. For more information on the Certified Horsemanship Association and to register for the annual conference, being held in Fort Collins, CO at Colorado State University September 21 - 23, 2006, please visit www.cha-ahse.org, email office@cha-ahse.org or call toll free 800-399-0138.
